

To present all of your amazing photography, each student will create a new Photo Blog. From here your photos can be shown, commented on and shared. Please follow these steps carefully and even after the end of the Trimester you'll have your very own website from which to create, utilize and enjoy!

- ☐ Go to www.weebly.com and on the left side of the screen add your name, email and password. It is expected to use your DC Gmail account for this! It's the only real email that you'd have access to in school.
- ☐ You are to then start a BLOG site!
- ☐ Select a theme for your blog. Keep in mind a few things: some of the designs offer various colors to choose from, try not to choose one that will take away from your photography, select a theme that best fits who YOU are. Personality creates interest! Also understand that this theme can be changed as many times as you wish.
- ☐ What is the name of your blog going to be? Choose the top option on the screen – it will add “.weebly.com” to the end of your domain name. Choose something easy to remember, personal and reflects that this is a photo blog.
  - Once finished PLEASE write down your domain name and your password on the Master List that is with the Instructor!! This list of website names will be distributed to everyone in the class (NOT the passwords).
- ☐ On the right side of the Blog Builder you will find “Author” and a small description. Add your name, or a handle to be identified with. Write in a quick little blurb about yourself. PLEASE leave out details that are too personal as this is a public site. Keep it short and sweet.
- ☐ Find BLOG SETTINGS. In the new list you have two changes to make:
  - Make sure your email is added to be notified of new comments to your posts
  - Change the date/time to US CENTRAL (the actual format is up to you). Click SAVE!
- ☐ At the top of the screen click on PAGES. On the left side you will see the three pages available (BLOG, ABOUT, CONTACT). You will need to delete the CONTACT PAGE!! It's unnecessary for this class.....
